Subject: Open Letter to Vicki Hyatt, Liberal Hack News Editor for the Mountaineer.

Ms. Annino,

I have to apologize to you on behalf of Haywood County Taxpayers that our Liberal Hack News Editor, Vicki Hyatt, for our local paper, The Mountaineer, was unable to get the proper spelling of your name in her recent article (appearing on the front page), “Land-clearing complaints turn into a hot potato”.

http://www.themountaineer.com/news/land-clearing-complaints-turn-into-a-hot-potato/article_f7b2977e-c4c8-11e7-b66c-e36e1a53037d.html

You see, Vicki Hyatt’s main job responsibility is to give cover to our local county and city democrat politicians. Fortunately, we are seeing many of these appointed and elected officials resigning right in the middle of their terms, like rats leaving a sinking ship. We do have one, however, who resigned, but remains dug in like a tick - David Francis. You may know him. He used to be our Waste Guy, and was in charge of the Francis Farm Land Fill fiasco.

Speaking of water, Vicki Hyatt should be focusing her attention on the alleged fraud at the Junaluska Sanitary District, where many Haywood County Taxpayers are mysteriously being billed for one time monthly usage of water in the range of ten’s of thousands of gallons, were told they had a leak, and the leaks mysteriously fixed themselves. Since this involves thousands and thousands of gallons that no one can find where they went, perhaps, if you have any spare time, you can help us out here and find that missing water.

Again, I apologize for Vicki Hyatt’s sloppy reporting.

Monroe A. Miller, Jr.
Haywood County Taxpayer.
