Subject: UPDATE! Request for Public Information - Ramey Cell Phone data sent to Cory Vaillancourt.

An additional email to Joey Webb, Jr., CGCIO, but no response from either him or his mouthpiece, Frank “Inapposite” Queen, Haywood County Attorney.

[Editor’s Note: Since there is another Joey Webb in town, I have added “Jr.” to the guy in IT.]

Where is this guy? He has gone dark. Here is the latest email...

Mr. Webb - CGCIO,

My Request for Public Information - "Ramey Cell Phone data sent to Cory Vaillancourt", which was originally sent on 5/12/2023, is now 18 days old. Furthermore, you initiated and put this request on your new county software package of NextRequest software package, numbered 23-18, on 5/16/2023. (NextRequest further publicly documents my Request for Public Information, which is still outstanding.) This request will not go away. Soon, you will be in direct violation of N.C.G.S. § 132. Why isn't Frank Queen coming to your rescue? You going to have to get lawyered up on this one? Continued no response from you will necessitate me considering starting to make Public Comments at county commission meetings.

Monroe A. Miller, Jr.

[From 3/23/2023.]

More stalling from Joey Webb, CGCIO. Here is a continuation of the email dialog with this character, who has now dove into a bunker.

Mr. Webb,

It has been ten (10) days since my initial Request for Public Information to you, which I requested:

It has come to my attention that Cory Vaillancourt, smn tabloid, has been sent information from Terry Ramey's private cell phone records by you, to Cory Vaillancourt of the smn tabloid, in which he then published private personal information relating to Terry Ramey's private cell phone conversations.

<https://smokymountainnews.com/news/item/35550-it-s-an-honor-system-public-records-statute-has-troubling-gap>

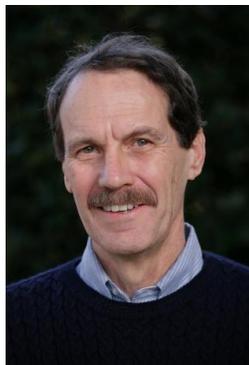

To which I responded with -

Public Records North Carolina General Statute §132 has no gaps. Response to Cory Vaillancourt of the democrat/socialist/Marxist smn tabloid article: 'It's an 'honor system' - public records statute has troubling gap'. 4/26/2023. 4/27/2023...

It is also my understanding that you, Mr. Webb, have sent more than one set of data/records/information to this Cory Vaillancourt character of information obtained by you from Terry Ramey's cell phone.

Please send me the exact, and I mean the exact, copy(s) of the information that you sent to Cory Vaillancourt, which includes every time you sent Cory Vaillancourt information.

The following is paraphrased from COUNTY AND MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT IN NORTH CAROLINA, Article 8, Open Meetings and Public Records, by David Lawrence, 2007, UNC School of Government, from The Right of Inspection and Copying -

- The most likely interpretation of the North Carolina's law (NCGS 132) is that a records custodian should respond promptly to a fairly simple records request, either immediately, within a few hours, or within a day or two.

You are the Records Custodian, not Terry Ramey.

David Lawrence does not refer to any software program you have, nor how many people have put in requests before me, which is not relevant. You have this information, as you have already sent it to Cory Vaillancourt! All you have to do is walk over to your computer key board and send me the link to the file that you made available to Cory Vaillancourt. I want the same file.

Now.

If you decide to further screw around, I will plan to include the State Chief Information Officer, <https://it.nc.gov/about/leadership/james-weaver>, James Weaver on future emails to you.

[From 5/16/2023.]

This is an UPDATE to my Request for Public Information from Joey Webb, CGCIO, custodian of the information he sent to Cory Vaillancourt from Terry Ramey's Cell Phone dumpster dive.

There are two (2) important aspects to this whole fiasco that are inter-twinned.

- The static I am receiving from Joey Webb, CGCIO, about getting public information with a properly formatted Request for Public Information via the most recent email dialog with this character, and,
- What Joey Webb, CGCIO really did (he along with Frank Queen), probably the most monstrous screw-up any county employee has ever committed in the history of Haywood County.

First, let's start with the email dialog, which is fairly self explanatory. The initial request was made on May 12, 2023, and is posted on www.haywoodtp.net

Mr. Webb,

I am fully aware that you have ten (10) days to comply with my original request, and all I requested this time was for you to acknowledge my Request for Public Information. I don't recall requesting me to change the order of your responses to Requests for Public Information.

Additionally, I resent that you are inserting the following text into my emails

I did not put this into my original email and for you to insert it into my original email, I consider as some form of forgery. Make it not happen again.

Mr. Miller,

Please see the highlighted text below. I found your request to be reasonable and have attempted to restructure my workflow to accommodate it. Previously, I would release a request that required little work while I was processing the longer requests, but I can see why you felt that unfair. As to the red text, this is added by one of our security and spam protection systems. We use several systems, but when the same sender sends a large volume of emails to multiple recipients, it does appear to most security systems as potential spam. I will not engage further as I have plenty of work to do to comply with these requests, but I hope this information is helpful.

Sincerely,
Joey

Joey Webb and Ms. Stevens,

It was brought to my attention that Sherry Morgan, who made a Request for Public Information after I made mine on a similar topic originally to addressed to Amy Stevens, who then redirected it to you, received a response from you, Joey Webb, before you have even acknowledged my original request. WTF?

Did I mention, I am requesting the email information that currently exists on the county's server, not by collecting cell phones of individuals and sucking their contents out, which is/was subject to the perpetrator(s) possibly deleting said emails.

Now, will you -

- acknowledge my Request for Public Information, and
- send me the requested emails.

Evidently, the information Sherry Morgan received had been completely sanitized and loaded with fluff. I am expecting a little more...

Additionally, there was an email included from Tommy Long, which confirms his current status as an idiot.

[Editor's Note: This is the current standoff. Looks like we are going to do this the hard way...]

Now Part II.

From earlier,

- What Joey Webb, CGCIO really did (he along with Frank Queen), probably the most monstrous screw-up any county employee has ever committed in the history of Haywood County.

Terry Ramey should never have submitted his private cell phone to Joey Webb, CGCIO based on a witch hunt by Cory Vaillancourt of the smn tabloid. It was brought to my attention that when this dumpster dive took place, it was monitored by the following county personnel, to insure that Cory Vaillancourt would not receive any confidential material, i.e., it would be redacted, either relating to Haywood County nor Terry Ramey's personal data -

- Joey Webb, CGCIO
- Frank Queen
- Bryant Morehead

So the question is: How did Cory Vaillancourt get Terry Ramey's personal information from Joey Webb, CGCIO that he wrote in his article in the smn tabloid, which was contained in the print issue of the tabloid, and posted on-line?

It's an 'honor system' — public records statute has troubling gap, Written by Cory Vaillancourt, Wednesday, April 26, 2023

<https://smokymountainnews.com/news/item/35550-it-s-an-honor-system-public-records-statute-has-troubling-gap>

The information that was sent to Cory Vaillancourt took extraordinary effort to access, compile, redact, etc., etc., etc., which under NCGS § 132, the county had every right to charge Cory Vaillancourt for their time.

It is unknown how much time these three people spent on this redacting this information. However, since Cory Vaillancourt confessed to Joey Webb, CGCIO, that this was a witch-hunt, Cory Vaillancourt should be charged for these employee's time, per NCGS § 132.

[Editor's Note: Near the end of the Haywood County Commission meeting yesterday afternoon, during the last agenda item #6, County Commissioner Terry Ramey brought this issue up. Check it out when Joey Webb, CGCIO finally decides to post the video of this meeting.]

The only information Cory Vaillancourt should have had access to were emails sent or received by Terry Ramey that went through the Haywood County Server. Nothing else. Yet these people, based on the opinion of Frank Queen, made Terry Ramey submit his cell phone for this dumpster dive, i.e., text messages, people who Terry Ramey made and received telephone calls from.

So, if all of these people -

- Joey Webb, CGCIO
- Frank Queen
- Bryant Morehead

sat down and carefully redacted all this information, how did Cory Vaillancourt get Terry Ramey's personal and confidential information to print?

That was/is the purpose of my Request for Public Information, to examine exactly what Cory Vaillancourt actually received from Joey Webb, CGCIO, the custodian of this information. My request was for Joey Webb, CGCIO to send me exactly what was sent or made available to Cory Vaillancourt.

It was brought to my attention of this possible scenario.

Possible Scenario.

Let's suppose that Joey Webb, CGCIO connected to Terry Ramey's cell phone to a county computer. Then, Joey Webb, CGCIO used the "send" feature on Terry Ramey's phone to transmit vital information to the county computer. Once on the county computer, the following people spent God Knows how much time going through the redaction process -

- Joey Webb, CGCIO
- Frank Queen
- Bryant Morehead

Once this priceless set of data was complete, Joey Webb, CGCIO then closed it up in a file, ready to package up for Cory Vaillancourt.

But then, Joey Webb, CGCIO "forgot" to remove the original "send" data from this glob of data, and sent Cory Vaillancourt both the redacted data + the original (unredacted) data. Cory Vaillancourt must have had a field day!

If this possible scenario holds out, I see only two paths.

- If Joey Webb, CGCIO intentionally included the "send" file, providing access of Terry Ramey's vital personal and private information to Cory Vaillancourt, then Joey Webb, CGCIO could possibly be looking at spending some time in an 8 x 10 foot room at a Federal Institution, or
- If Joey Webb, CGCIO provided access of Terry Ramey's vital personal and private information to Cory Vaillancourt through either incompetence or stupidity, then Joey Webb, CGCIO should be fired.

Let's see if I ever get the information I have requested from Joey Webb, CGCIO.
