What’s Happening?

The purpose of this newsletter is to inform Haywood County Taxpayers of what transpires at the bi-monthly County Commission Meetings. This newsletter will be written from the perspective of a casual observer, myself. Any opinions expressed will be mine.

Breakfast with Vicki.

After the swearing in of Michael Matthews on December 8, 2014, Eddie Cabe walked over to Vicki Hyatt, more than once, and chided her for not writing anything in the Mountaineer about the GOP’s Executive Committee rebuke on Ted Carr. Ted Carr is Pat Carr’s (dictatorial chair of the Haywood County GOP) husband.

Befuddled, what was Vicki to do?

As we all recall, Vicki Hyatt had been invited by Pat Carr to attend Pat Carr’s Special Called Meeting to oust her. Press attended, and here is a recount from the Smoky Mountain News 2014 stories of the year of what happened...

“Double-Agent award

Smoky Mountain News reporter Becky Johnson stops at nothing to get a story. This year, she even went undercover — sort of. Johnson was hoping to get in to a Haywood County GOP meeting to witness an attempted coup of the local party leadership by a radical faction.

She was told earlier that day by the coup leaders that only Republicans would be allowed in to the meeting that night. So Johnson promptly marched down to the county election office and changed her voter registration to Republican.

At the start of the GOP meeting, she was outed as not being a Republican. Despite presenting paperwork to prove her new Republican status — “seven hours and counting” — she was voted out of the meeting anyway.

For the record, she changed her voter registration back to unaffiliated a few days later.”

[Editors Note: This is a word for word copy of this section of the on-line article.]

How was Vicki to do an article on Ted Carr?

Evidently, Vicki Hyatt monitors Facebook (I do not). She located Eddie Cabe’s Facebook account, and noticed that Eddie had been asking a series of questions related to what was happening with the GOP.

On one of the facebook pages, Eddie had invited friends to one of his monthly breakfast’s at a local dining establishment. She e-mailed Eddie to let him know she was coming. Eddie replied expressing some displeasure.

Vicki Hyatt crashes Eddies Breakfast.

Low and behold, Vicki showed up. How brash can you be? Everyone’s radar turned on, wary that anything that was said could be used in another Character Assassination Hit Piece.

Vicki had already interviewed Pat Carr (dictatorial Chair of the Haywood County GOP) to a series of cherry picked questions she had obtained from Eddies Facebook page, and wanted Eddie to respond.

Vicki Hyatt was admonished that this was not the time or place to be asking Eddie these questions. Being of rather tough skin, Vicki persisted.

Me without a camera when you need one.

But wait! I had my cell phone camera. :-)

After consuming vast amounts of peoples time during this breakfast, and with the extreme likelihood that some of the attendees might get indigestion, Vicki Hyatt was requested to leave. “Why not visit the next GOP meeting at Organic Beans?”, she was asked. No, whined Vicki, playing the victim, they might throw me out again.

Subsequent to that breakfast, there was a short e-mail dialog, with - you guessed it - Becky Johnson chiming in. I have redacted the names on these e-mails, as some were innocent bystanders.

I have refrained, in the past, from posting details of Haywood County GOP meetings on this website. However, since Pat Carr and Vicki Hyatt seem intent on bring this out publicly, let’s see what happens.

Enjoy...

Legend: If any name is in bold, it can’t be a good thing.

[Editors Note: I apologize in advance for these photo’s being out of focus. I cannot ever seem to get a good picture of Vicki Hyatt. Not used to taking pictures on my cell phone. Perhaps if Vicki Hyatt gives me advance notice of the next meeting she plans to crash a meeting, I will have my real camera.]

[Editors Note: Does Vicki Hyatt look like she is about to break down in tears?]

In all fairness to Vicki, I owe it to readers to provide a sharply focused file photo of Vicki Hyatt.

This photo was taken at the Special Called GOP meeting where the press was asked to be excused.

Vicki is such a drama queen

Eddie,
These are the questions I gleaned from your website and emails as well as the responses I received from Pat Carr. As you know, the party structure doesn't necessarily allow public access to records, so interviews with individuals are all I can rely on.

This morning I was trying to allow you to respond to Pat's answers, but was kicked out. As I will write in my personal column expressing my personal opinion, a younger, less seasoned reporter who was treated as your group treated me would have left your meeting in tears with deeply hurt feelings.

Questions and answers

On the Patriots of Haywood County website, Eddie Cabe, Republican executive party member, includes emails sent to Haywood County GOP Chairman Pat Carr.

Below is a list of questions and responses about issues of concern.

Cabe: The fake Haywood County GOP website is not controlled by the Haywood County Republican Party Executive Committee.

Carr: It is under the control of the executive committee. We have a webmaste who puts on anything we ask. From time to time, people will send pictures, and if they are appropriate, I put them on. It is not available for anyone to post on the website.

Cabe: Why is the Haywood County Republican Party refused access to the bank statements?

Carr: There is nothing in the plan of organization that authorizes bank statements to be released. The first time somebody demanded bank statements, I sent an email to the state GOP legal counsel and was advised to not divulge bank statements as it revealed the account number.

Cabe: We must demand accountability and we must find our where "Donation Options" on the fake Haywood County GOP website are going.

Carr: The plan of organization says the treasurer shall give a financial report at every meeting and that has been done without fail. What's happened is there have been various periods when reports were due and we didn't have treasurer. The state advised I do the reports myself and sign off as acting treasurer. If you don't file reports, you get fined. At every meeting I ask if there is a candidate for treasurer and no one would step forward. As for accountability, you must have an audit once a year. I appointed an audit committee and asked Monroe Miller to serve. He refused. From my standpoint, he appears to be manipulating things from behind the scenes. This was his chance to get answers. The appointed committee rendered a report basically saying things were in excellent shape.

Cabe: Can anyone tell me how I can get a copy of the revised minutes from recent Haywood County Republican Party Executive Committee meeting? (still unapproved by the executive committee) and unseen by the executive committee. I have tried to ask the secretary of the Haywood Republican Party, but he has blocked me and other executive members from his email.

Carr: The minutes of the meetings were provided in draft form, but were tabled. While the minutes didn't contain the entire transcript of the meeting, Carr said they do contain a description of actions taken, which is what's is required for minutes.

You know, Vicki,

A younger, less seasoned reporter, as Kevin Fuller, for example, would likely never have been treated as you did when you crashed Eddie's Breakfast. It will be a cold day in [expletive deleted] when I see you ever leave any meeting in tears with deeply hurt feelings.

Eddie's Breakfast was the wrong place for you to attempt to get a response from Eddie's concerns. Why don't you go to the GOP meeting, if Pat Carr has not already invited you, this Thursday at 6:30p at Organic Beans. Most likely, the GOP meeting will be held in the meeting room at the end of the building, but there is no law you can't come in and have a cup of coffee and sit in the main lounge. If you get rowdy, the owner may kick you out of his establishment.

I have, in the past, refrained from using my website, www.haywoodtp.net, to air Pat Carr's dirty laundry. I would say, at this point, your dialog below is so one-sided, that I will find it difficult to refrain any longer. Go ahead and print this up, and let's see what happens.

By the way, there are two interesting newsworthy items.

- Did you see the write-up in dailyhaymaker.com? See <http://dailyhaymaker.com/?p=10124>. It pretty much paints our county commissioners as monkey's and giggling school girls.
- Don't forget to look at my latest Toeprints, <http://haywoodtp.net/pubTP/T150104.pdf>, where you can actually view, on official Justice Center video recordings, David Francis assaulting me.

Is showing up where you aren't wanted the definition of crashing something?
In that case, let's keep a tally of who does the most crashing.

Becky,

This is evidently splattered all over facebook now, too bad you didn't crash the breakfast also.
